

Lindsey Boullt - Composition (Lindsey Boullt)

Now talk about a superstar line up of backing musicians for guitar heroes. Let's just say that the musicianship on this CD is pretty amazing and they play some great and intense music as well. It is for sure not just all guitar shredding although, you have a some like on the opening track Page Revisited... Jerry Goodman on Violin, Stu Hamm or Jon Herrera on Bass, Atma Anur or Jeremy Colson on drums, Peter Van Gelder on sitar, Derek Sherinian on keyboards, Mingo Lewis on Percussion and Sukhawat Ali Khan on vocals on one or two tracks.. This is a great mixture of jazz or metal or rock fusion. Taste the Hate is a totally amazing track with killer guitar, sitar and a cool Middle Eastern vibe. Farewell is a more laid back affair with some great melodic guitar soloing and nice acoustic playing but I did not really care for the keyboards, too new age sounding. Cleopatra's Third Eye ends the CD and features some nice bass, percussion and a sitar piece at the end that leads into the intense guitar and back into the main theme of the composition. Great stuff.

<http://www.lindseyboullt.com>

If you dig: Mahavishnu Orchestra, Return to Forever, King Crimson, Joe Satriani

#####

Scott